

Wot News (online) 2 December 2009

Milestone for green technology exporters

Australian company Papyrus recently announced that they are now producing commercial quantities of their patented veneer and fibreboard products, made from the previously unusable recycled trunks of banana trees, for ...

Dynamic Export - 2:21 p.m. Wednesday 2nd December 2009 EST

 View Article  Related Articles  Email to Friend

Papyrus Australia reaches milestone with new fibre technology

PAPYRUS Australia has reached a production milestone with the ability to now produce commercial quantities of fibreboard and veneer products.

Sustainable Building Products - 10 a.m. Wednesday 2nd December 2009 EST

 View Article  Related Articles  Email to Friend

Production milestone for new fibre technology

Papyrus is now able to produce commercial quantities of fibreboard and veneer products for export from their Walkamin factory in far North Queensland.

BPN - 9:39 a.m. Wednesday 2nd December 2009 EST

 View Article  Related Articles  Email to Friend